The Institution of Engineering and Technology and Institute of Nanotechnology Seminar on

Polymer Electronics

Towards the future

Tuesday, 21 April 2009 | The IET | Savoy Place | London | UK

Keep a pace with this new and rapidly developing field! Industry experts will challenge the way you design and manufacture plastic electronics in the future.

Key benefits:

- Hear presentations on the latest technological advances from leading companies
- Learn about the latest testing and prototyping developments of organic electronics from PETEC
- Obtain detailed information on how OLEDs and microfluidic devices are being used within the healthcare market
- Find out where this global market is heading from IDTechEX
