

Benefits of Participation in the

Nano, Enabling, and Advanced Technologies Post-graduate Course Directory

- Participation in the education sub-group of the Institute of Nanotechnology.
- Contributing to any benchmarking statements being produced by the Institute of Nanotechnology.
- Contribution to formation of continual professional development programs.
- Detailed information dissemination about the course from the website;
  - Enables online comparison of multidisciplinary course content.
  - Allows prospective students to choose from ideal course based on skills and aspiration.
  - Assists employers in understanding course content and knowledge competencies.
  - Offers a platform for course providers to reach out internationally.
- Collaborating to improve the quality of education and training.
- Networking with other course providers to enhance course content and benchmarking good practices.
- Accessing survey of industry skills gaps and training needs.
- Regular interaction with industry to shape training and development of students.
- Informing students of prospective future roles through informal counselling.
- Development of a community by bring together students, course providers and industry.
- Discount to course faculty and students on attending conferences and events hosted by the Institute of Nanotechnology.